FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – April 6, 2005

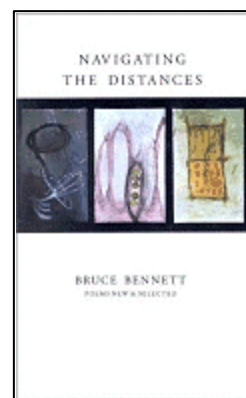

Keuka College Spotlight Series to Highlight Works By Bruce Bennett

KEUKA PARK, N.Y. - Keuka College's Spotlight Series will continue Tuesday, April 12, with a reading by poet Bruce Bennett.

The reading, free and open to the public, begins at 7 p.m. in Hegeman Hall, room 109.

Bennett will read from his new chapbook, Web-Watching, which won the 2003 Bright Hill Press Poetry Chapbook Competition.

A collection of 24 poems, Web-Watching examines the ordinary phenomena of life, while raising questions about the nature of design in the world. In her comment on the book, author and critic Judith Kitchen observes "Web-Watching addresses large issues by looking at the small worlds of moth and loon and dragonfly. Form mediates: it delights and instructs."

According to Peter Makuck, editor of Tar River Poetry "At the heart of Bruce Bennett's work is wonder of vision and rigor of craft. These brilliant poems repay our attention with dramatic images and luminous moments; they wear their wisdom lightly and quickly connect in a human and intimate way. Bennett makes us see and feel a mysterious web of infinite connectedness."

Bennett is the author of six volumes of poetry and 16 poetry chapbooks including Grief and Love, Funny Signals, Hey Diddle Diddle, Garrettman, and I Never Danced with Mary Beth. Booklist cited his Navigating the Distances: Poems New and Selected as one of the top 10 poetry books of 1999.
