Musician Jason LeVasseur to Perform Sept. 14

KEUKA PARK, N.Y. - Creating and performing music for more than a decade, singer-songwriter and guitarist Jason LeVasseur will perform at Keuka College Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The concert, free and open to the public, begins at 8 p.m. in the Terrace.

Throughout 2003, LaVasseur toured nationally in support of his live album The Opening Guy, a collection of 10 acoustic songs. The album features styles ranging from blues, sentimental ballad, and rock ‘n’ roll.

LaVasseur is also a member of the award-winning band Life in General. The duo was selected as one of Musician magazine’s “Top 100 Unsigned Bands” in the country and was voted the National Association for Campus Activities’ (NACA) “Music Artist of The Year.” In 2002, Campus Activities magazine named LaVasseur the “Best Small Venue Performer.”

LaVasseur has toured and performed internationally while sharing the stage with such talents as the Dave Matthews Band, John Mayer, the Wallflowers, Widespread Panic, and Vertical Horizon. Four of LeVasseur’s songs appear in feature-length movies, with one song appearing on the EA Sports video game Triple Play 2000.
