The Pointes of Faith Dancers to Present Victory March 18-19 at Keuka College

KEUKA PARK, N.Y.—The Pointes of Faith Dancers Inc., a ballet and modern dance company from Lyons, will perform a program titled Victory Friday and Saturday, March 18-19, at Keuka College.

Performances begin at 7 each evening in Norton Chapel and are free and open to the public.

“We are thrilled to have Pointes of Faith come to Keuka College to perform for the greater Penn Yan community,” said Rev. Gerry Fish, chaplain at Keuka College. “The passion and energy this group has for the art of dance and for telling God’s story of love through movement, music, and testimony are sure to make this a life-touching and unforgettable performance for everyone.”

“These Keuka College performances are created to be a time of refreshing and renewal of our hearts and souls,” said Rachael Platt, choreographer, artistic director and principal dancer.

Victory will feature original choreography by Platt, beginning with Via Dolorosa, “an emotionally moving dance on pointe and continuing with the message of God’s love with an original ballet.” The audience “will experience the victory that one can have because of Jesus’ death and resurrection” through the imagery and narration of The Testimony, a modern dance. The group will also present, for the first time, a modern dance titled Gossip.

In addition to Platt, dancers scheduled to perform at Keuka College include Douglas Platt II, Jennifer Martin, Christy Everson, and Colleen O’Dell. Music for some of the dances was composed for Pointes of Faith by Jonathan Rabson. The other members of the company include Dick LaValley (lighting, sound, narration), John Murray (tech crew) and Diane LaValley (narration).
