

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – April 14, 2006

Quartsemble to Perform at Keuka College

KEUKA PARK, N.Y. — Quartsemble, a Rochester-based five-piece chamber music group, will perform at Keuka College Monday, April 17.

The concert, free and open to the public, begins at 7 p.m. in Norton Chapel.

Formed by the husband-wife team of Karine Stone and Diego Garcia, the group will perform classical favorites from Mozart, Debussy, and Puccini, and Respighi.

Stone (violin), a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, performs in the second violin section of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra and in the first violin section of the Rochester Oratorio Society. Garcia (cello), a faculty member at the Eastman Community Music School, was recently featured as a guest artist on the radio broadcast Live from Hochstein.

The group also showcases the talents of Gaelen McCormick (bass), a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, has been a member of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra since 1995; An-Chi OuYang (violin) who has played with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra since 1997; and Heidi Stauber (viola) played with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra for nine years.

Soprano Allyn Van Dusen has appeared as mezzo soloist with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, the Rochester Oratorio Society, and the Boston Symphony, also performs with the group.